

Thank you for your interest in having your work featured in Autism Parenting Magazine. We reserve the right, at our discretion, to publish or not publish any articles or other materials (known as Content), that you submit to us. Before we can accept any Content from you, please confirm you have read and agree to our Submissions Agreement, which will govern any Content accepted for publication in Autism Parenting Magazine, the autismparentingmagazine.com website or any other Autism Parenting Magazine social media platform.

1. All articles must conform to our Submission Guidelines.
2. Autism Parenting Magazine reserves the right to determine whether the article submissions are appropriate and in accordance with this Agreement for reasons other than stated in this provision.
3. Autism Parenting Magazine reserves the right to review and approve the suitability of the submitted Content. We may select and/or omit any image and text provided for any reason or no reason at all at our discretion.
4. In exchange for publishing your Content, you grant Autism Parenting Magazine a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free license to any piece of Content you submit to us, including the right to use, publish, modify, distribute, and display the Content in any manner and on any medium existing now or hereafter.
5. You will retain ownership of the copyright in the Content submitted, subject to the rights granted to Autism Parenting Magazine in this Agreement. However, if you decide to republish the Content that has been edited by Autism Parenting Magazine elsewhere, you agree to include the following disclosure: "Originally published by Autism Parenting Magazine at www.AutismParentingMagazine.com."
6. Articles commissioned and edited by the Autism Parenting Magazine staff may not be redistributed by you without advance permission (prior to the article being edited). If agreed in advance, Content republished should contain the following text: "Originally published by Autism Parenting Magazine at www.AutismParentingMagazine.com."
7. If your Content is accepted for publication, please understand we make no promises, representations, or warranties, whatsoever regarding the level of exposure that you or your Content will receive, and you agree we have no duty to you under this Agreement, or under any law, or in equity, in connection with any of your Content that we may use.
8. Affiliate relationships between the writer and recommended products need to be disclosed in advance of proposal and article submission. Autism Parenting Magazine reserves the right to include its own affiliate links in the articles and display relevant advertising both on the website and the magazine.
9. By submitting your article, you agree you will not be directly compensated for your Content. Autism Parenting Magazine will, however, include links to any publications, products or social media profiles, email addresses or websites you may have in the bio. The bio can contain up to 250 words.

10. We reserve the right, in our sole discretion, to (a) edit the Content, (b) supplement the Content with our trade names, trademarks and with Content provided by us or by third parties, (c) remove the Content from autismparentingmagazine.com; and (d) commercially benefit from the Content.
11. Our site receives significant traffic and is accessible to anyone on the Internet so you should not provide us with any Content that is private. Anything posted on our site will be available to anyone on the Internet. You are solely responsible for any legal or other repercussions that occur as a result of your Content posted on our site. We assume no responsibility or liability that may arise from your Content. We are under no obligation to modify or delete your Content once it is posted on our site.
12. By submitting your article, you warrant to us that the Content is an original work you have created and you must indicate whether it has been published elsewhere.
13. Be aware that Content, including photographs, and pictures, remain the property of the creator or submitter. You should not submit or reproduce such without permission of the owner. Pictures or photographs of living individuals, except your minor children, must not be posted without their consent.
14. Submitted Content should not express or imply statements of fact that are untrue, false, or misleading. It must not infringe on the copyrights, trademarks, or rights of any third party. By submitting your Content to us, you guarantee that it does not contain any defamatory, libellous, obscene, threatening, abusive, harassing, or any similarly unlawful material.
